PARKER FOR GOLD STANDARD

Threatened to Decline Nomination Unless Position Approved

CAUSED SENSATION

The Reply of Convention Endorsing His Course—West Virginian for Second Place on Ticket.

HIS NAME IS HENRY G. DAVIS

ST. LOUIS, July 11.—After one of the most dramatic sessions in the history of the party, the Democratic National Convention nominated Former United States Senator Henry G. Davis, of West Virginia for Vice President, and adjourned at 1:30 o'clock (Sunday) morning. The evening session was made dramatic by the receipt of a telegram from Judge Parker in which he declared himself as favoring the gold standard and unwilling to accept a nomination from the convention should his views be unsatisfactory to the delegates. His announcement was like lightning from a clear sky.

MESSAGE CAUSED CONSTERNATION

The telegram was received during the late afternoon session and caused so much consternation that a recess had to be taken early in the evening while the leaders held a conference to decide what to do. After several hours work, during which many bitter words were passed between the leaders, an answer was framed which was sent to the Presidential nominee after the convention on reassembly had ratified it by a vote of 774 to 181. During the heated debate Bryan declared he was willing to agree to a gold standard plank if harmony could be brought about thereby. John Sharp Williams refused to agree to this and bitterly arraigned Bryan for his attitude.

THE MESSAGE FROM PARKER

The following is the text of Judge Parker's telegram addressed William F. Sheehan:

Hotel Jefferson, St. Louis:

"I regard the gold standard as firmly and irrevocably established and shall act accordingly if the action of the convention Sunday shall be ratified by the people. As the platform is silent on the subject my views should be made known to the convention and if it is proved to be unsatisfactory to the majority I request you to decline the nomination for me at once so that another may be nominated before adjournment.

(Signed) "A. B. Parker."

REPLY OF THE CONVENTION

The reply sent to Judge Parker was as follows:

"The platform adopted by this convention is silent on the question of the monetary standard because it is not regarded by us as a possible issue in this campaign and only campaign issues were mentioned in the platform. Therefore there is nothing in the views expressed by you in the telegram just received which would preclude a man entertaining them from accepting a nomination on said platform."

SKETCH OF MR. DAVIS

Henry G. Davis was born near Baltimore, on November 16, 1823. He was compelled to paddle his own canoe before he was 15 years of age, but he faced the necessity with determination, and manage to earn a comfortable living while receiving his education at the public schools. His first occupation was that of a superintendent of a plantation; then he became a brakeman, conductor and agent at Piedmont, W. Va., of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company. Thereafter he branched out as a merchant and a leading collier, and projected and carried on to great success the West Virginia Central and Pittsburg railway, of which he is president. Mr. Davis is also president of the Piedmont and Cumberland railway, and of the Davis National bank of Piedmont, W. Va.

Mr. Davis political career commenced with his election to the House of Delegates of West Virginia in 1865. He afterwards served as State Senator during the years 1867-'69, and was then chosen and filled the position of United State Senator from West Virginia for two terms, from 1871 to 1883. He was a member of the Pan-American Railway Commission.

WILLIAM T. LEATHERS JR.

Sad Accident Which Resulted in Death of Prominent Mt. Eagle Business Man.

A very sad accident occurred Friday morning at Mt. Eagle which resulted in the death of William T. Leathers, one of the leading citizens of that little village. Mr. Leathers is the proprietor of the handle factory and a manufacturer of roof paint at Mt. Eagle. About 8 o'clock Friday morning he was leaning out the second story window of his residence talking to John Wetzel whom he had engaged to repair the boiler at the handle factory. He just finished his conversation and Mr. Wetzel had turned to go away when Mr. Leathers plunged headlong out the window landing on the stone steps leading down into the cellar fifteen feet below. His skull was fractured and he lived but a short time after the accident occurred. The doctor in attendance think that his fall was due to a rush of blood to the head.

The window sill from which he fell is short distance from the floor and Mr. Leather's being a very heavy man, one theory is that he lost his balance and fell out the window.

W. T. Leathers was born in Mt. Eagle, Centre county, and would have been 48 years old next September. He was the son of J. B. Leathers deceased. He was married to Miss Eva Bathurst, who survives him with the following children: Fracie, Earle, Clarence, Rue and Gertrude.

Mr. Leathers was an honest, upright citizen, a very successful business man, a christian gentleman and a member of the Disciple church. His loss to his family and the community will be greatly felt.

The funeral took place Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock from the house. Interment in the Curtin cemetery.

DEATH OF PHILO WARD.

One of Bellefonte's Oldest Citizens Passes Away.

On Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the angel of death entered the Fleming home on North Penn street and took home to the spirit land, Mrs. Fleming's aged father, the venerable Philo Ward. The deceased was one of Bellefonte's oldest and most respected citizens and a life long resident of the town. He had lived to a ripe old age having passed the 86th milestone in life's journey and his death was due to infirmities incident to his accumulating years.

For years he had made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Fleming and their loving care and attention smoothed the pathway of his declining days. He will be sincerely mourned not only by his children but by a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

The deceased is a sincere christian gentleman and a member of the Methodist church.

Surviving him are the following children: Mrs. Frank McCumpsey, of Renova; Mrs. J. C. Johnson and Mrs. Wilson I. Fleming of Bellefonte.

The funeral took place Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the house, Rev. John A. Wood Jr., officiating. Interment in the Union cemetery.

William Michaels Killed.

William Michaels a former Bellefonte citizen but of late has been making his home in Lock Haven was killed at Hyner, Clinton county on Monday morning, by a runaway team attached to a loaded bark wagon.

The wagon was heavily loaded and falling from the wagon Mr. Michaels was run over and his body badly bruised. He was found dead sometime after the accident occurred. The flyer stopped at Hyner and the remains were taken to Lock Haven, where Undertaker Waters took charge of the body and prepared it for burial.

He was married to Regina Rhoads a daughter of T. H. Rhoads of Bellefonte who with five children are left to mourn his death. He was about 45 years of age. The body will be brought to Bellefonte this morning, and the funeral will occur from the train. He was a member of the I. O. O. F. and Knights of Pythias.

The Jersey Shore Herald refers to the fact that the Electric Railway Company of that place lifted something over 5000 fares on the Fourth of July, and says it was the banner day in the history of the road. Think of the Philipsburg trolley line lifting 21000 fares on the same day, and you can imagine how much better our road is paying as an investment. And yet the Jersey Shore road, which is finely equipped, is said to be paying the promoters.

FAIRBANKS SEES PRESIDENT

An Important Conference at Sagomore Hill

ON CAMPAIGN ISSUES

By Prominent Republican Leaders Concerning the Conduct of the Camqaign of 1904

FAIRBANKS CORDIALLY RECEIVED

OYSTER BAY, July 12.—Senator Charles W. Fairbanks, of Indiana, Republican candidate for Vice President, was a guest at Sagamore Hill Monday night. The Senator arrived unaccompanied at Oyster Bay at 6:43 o'clock Monday evening. It has been expected that he would arrived on an earlier train, but he missed connections at Long Island City and was delayed nearly an hour. The Vice Presidential candidate came directly from Indianapolis, and was accorded a cordial reception at the station as he alighted from the train. He responded to greetings by lifting his hat. Senator Fairbanks was conducted to the President's carriage and was driven directly to Sagamore Hill.

As the open carriage passed through the village Senator Fairbanks was recognized by many persons. His reception at Sagamore Hill was characterized by noticeable cordiality.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt, National Chairman George B. Cortelyou, who is also a guest of the President, gave Senator Fairbanks a hearty greeting. It was the first meeting of the President and Senator Fairbanks since they were nominated by the Chicago convention, and they exchanged personally the felicitations each had previously offered the other by telegraph and by mail.

The arrival of Senator Fairbanks was preceded by an important conference concerning the demands of the campaign and preparing speeches of acceptance The parties to it were the President, Mr. Cortelyou and Cornelius N. Bliss, of New York, treasurer of the Republican National Committee. Mr. Cortelyou arrived here from Washington early in the day, accompanied by his confidential secretary, H. O. Weaver. He was driven to the summer executive office where he was joined by Secretary Loeb. Together they drove to Sagamore Hill. Chairman Cortelyou declined to be interviewed or to make any comments either on the candidates nominated by the Democratic party, the action of the St. Louis convention or the platform. He was here, he said, to confer with the President and Senator Fairbanks.

An hour later Mr. Bliss arrived from New York and was taken to Sagamore Hill in one of the President's carriages. It was expected that he would remain here until today, but he was obliged to return to New York yesterday. Mr. Bliss declined to discuss the details of the afternoon's conference.

The family left Houtzdale just about four weeks ago on a trip to the Fatherland, and their sad fate has been received with deep sorrow by their many friends. Mr. Anda was associated with John B. A HAPPY FAMILY RE-UNION.

Edward G. and Lydia Osmer Gather Together their Children.

The pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. Rash Williams on Willowbank street was the scene on Monday evening of a happy family reunion.

From the Golden Gate on the far western shore of these grand old United States came one of their son's to participate in this gathering of gatherings, the first this family have had in a life time.

Edward G. Osmer is one of Bellefonte's and Spring Townships most highly respected citizens and he has had for a help-mate through life a lady of the highest christian type, one who was always ready to give a word of cheer and encouragement to these around her who were in any way cast down or disheartened.

For twenty two years Mr. Osmer was the trusted farmer on Mrs. Valentines large farm east of town and for twenty years he has lived mostly a retired life.

Forty eight years ago he married Miss Lydia Eckenroth at that time on of Centre County's reigning belle's, to this union there was born a family of seven children who have all honored their father and mother and proved a credit to them, and to Bellefonte their real old home.

John Osmer the oldest son is married and lives in Los Angeles, California, Alfred G. Osmer and his wife live in Lincoln, Nebraska, Charles lives in Bellefonte and has a family of six of the prettiest little children in the county; Mrs Elizabeth Hibler, and Mrs. Rash Williams, of Bellefonte; Miles of Jersey Shore; and Clarence of Altoona. Miles has prospered wonderfully since going to our sister town and besides doing well in storing up this world's goods he has also got three beautiful little girls, Myra, Katharine and Margie are their names.

Mr. and Mrs. Osmer's children presented to them two magnificent rocking chairs in which they are to rest during their declining years.

Trapped by the Russians During Night Attack.

ST PETERSBURG, July 13.—A dispatch from a Russian correspondent at Mukden, dated July 11, says:

"According to intelligence received here the Japanese Monday night attacked positions near Port Arthur and were repulsed with enormous losses, not less than 30,000, it is said, being killed or wounded by our mines."

NEWCHWANG, July, 12.—Noon.—Chinese coming in from the country report the Russians everywhere retiring before the Japanese, who are soon expected here. —William Resides, one of Unionville's highly esteemed citizens, who is now in his 73rd year, walked Thursday all the way from the former place to Philipsburg, and when we met him late in the afternoon on Front street he looked as though he was good for several miles more at least without becoming very much fatigued. Mr. Resides is an uncle of H. D. Rumberger, an old soldier of the 51st regiment, and who lost an arm at Fredericksburg. He is a very jovial gentleman.—Philipsburg Journal.

THE DESIGN IS ACCEPTED

For Curtin Monument, Soldiers & Sailors Memorial.

THE PLANS AS ADOPTED

Will Break Ground Next Spring and be Completed September 1905 at a Cost of $33,000—The Van Amringe Granite, Company of Boston Have Contract.

TO STAND IN COURT HOUSE YARD

At last the plans are definitely settled for the erection of a suitable memorial to the soldiers and sailors of Centre county and a fitting monument to the illustrious War governor of Pennsylvania, Andrew G. Curtin. Sometime ago the committee selected the Van Amringe Granite Company of Boston, Mass., to prepar the design and Wednesday morning it was finally accepted by the committee appointed by the Monument Association who met the representatives of the company in the Arbitration room at the Court House.

The design for the monument is very handsome and is the work of Architect Louis R. Henrich, of Boston. The monument will stand in front of the Court house and in the Court house yard close to the pavement. The memorial will describe a semi-circle with an opening in the centre for the walk leading up to the Court House. It will have a frontage of about 54 feet and a depth of about 26 feet In the centre just in front of the opening leading to the Court house will be the heroic size statue of Governor Curtin, the statue, 9 feet high and with base 18 feet high.

The statue and memorial surrounding it will be built of granite, with the tablets in bronze. The walls will be about 11 feet high. There will be tablets with the names of all the soldiers and sailors of Centre county inscribed thereon together with all the battles Centre County soldiers participated in. At the north end will be a bas-relief design representing "War" and at the south end a similar design representing "Peace."

The memorial will cost $33,000 and the work of cutting the granite will commence at once. Next spring they expect to break ground and the idea is to dedicate it the following September.

The special committee who selected this design were Gov. S. W. Pennypacker, Gen. James A. Beaver, Senator A. E. Patton, Gen. John I. Curtin, Capt. C. T. Fryberger, John A. Daley, A. V. Miller, P. H. Meyer and John G. Bailey.

The names of the soldiers and sailors will be inscribed on the tablets in letters of bronze ½ of an inch high. Across the top of the semi-circle cut in the granite in large letters are these words, "To Those Who Died to Keep the Nation Whole This Monument is Dedicated in Grateful Appreciation."

Joseph N. Huston, of Philadelphia, supervising architect of the State Capitol at Harrisburg was in town Wednesday and inspected the plans for the Curtin Monument and pronounced them the finest thing of the kind that had ever come to his notice.

BOLD HIHGWAY MEN!

Citizens of Coleville Frightened While On Their Way to Their Homes

Sunday night about eleven o'clock Alf. Smith and John Rote were going to their homes at Coleville when midway between the Mitchell residence and Collin's row they were confronted by two large colored men who commanded them to stop. Immediately the young fellows started to run with the negroes close on their heels. Smith and Rote reached William Fore's home and reported the incident and while standing talking to the Fore family John Krebs, night fireman at the electric light works passed by and the young men told him what happened and if he had any valuables with him he had better leave them with Mrs. Fore which he did, depositing $30 dollars and gold watch with the lady, and started on towards Bellefonte being carefully on the alert. At about the same place where Smith and Rote were held up, the two villians yelled for Krebs to stop, saying: "Wait fellow we want to see you," and grabbed for him. Krebs says he began to tread the air like a trotting horse, and never looked back until he reached the electric light station when he immediately telephoned the police at the Mayor's office, who started after the culprits but as yet have not caught them.

Krebs says he is certain they were colored men, rather large fellows, and strangers to him. Sunday nights scare had hardly died away when on Monday evening James Barthurst a young man from Pittsburg who is visiting Ralph Cox at Coleville was held up near the bridge at the Bellefonte Central freight station, one of the thugs grabbed him around the neck, tearing his collar and neck tie off and had it not been for his belt they would have had his watch, as it was they broke the chain into five pieces. Barthurst tussled with them and wrenched himself loose and reached for a revolver which he had in his hip pocket. The villians ran to the bridge and hid, at the same time Barthurst shot at them, one cried out "I am shot." When under cover the robbers began firing back at Barthurst and over a dozen shots were exchanged between the four. Citizens living near by heard the reports and went to Barthurst rescue, but in the meantime the thugs had gotten safely away. Mr. Barthurst stood his ground nobly and if he had of had assistance these villians would have been caught.

A reporter of the paper interviewed Messrs Cox and Barthurst and both are reliable gentlemen and would take an oath as to the truth of their statements.

Off to Oregon.

On Wednesday July 13, 1904, Mr. E. A. Humpton and his estimable wife, Dora, Miss Maude and Miles, departed from Snow Shoe City, Pa., for Oregon. We are sorry to loose these folks as they were efficient members of the Messiahs Church of this place and always ready and willing to aid in church work, both financially and otherwise. We also lose an efficient school teacher and Tax Collector as Mr. Humpton has served us faithfully along these lines since his sojourn among us. We wish him and family a safe journey and may prosperity attend them wherever they may decide to locate. Accompanying them on the journey from Snow Shoe, Pa., as far as St. Louis, Mo., to see the sights of the World's Fair is Miss Mary E. Penney, the most popular school teacher in Centre Co. as shown by the World's Fair Contest given by the Bellefonte Republican paper. Last but not least our cranky, but obliging Post master J. I. Yarnell and his estimable wife, B. E. Yarnell. We wish for them a safe journey and an enjoyable trip and hope they may be guided by the hand of Providence and be permitted to return to their homes safe.

COLONEL MONROE

The Lincolnville Philosopher Claims That American Railways Are Behind In the March of Progress

By FREDERICK UPHAM ADAMS

Copyright, 1903, by Frederick Upham Adams

COLONEL MONROE was not in the best of humor on this particular evening. He responded curtly to Postmaster Jenkins' greeting and smoked in gloomy silence until Judge Sawyer entered the room.

"You look worn out, colonel," he said as he shook hands. "Have you been ill?"

"I am recovering slowly from a railroad trip," responded the colonel wearily.

"I did not know that you had been out of Lincolnville."

"Business called me to Franklin," explained Colonel Monroe. "It's only a hundred miles, to be sure, but any distance on a modern railroad is an ordeal. The service on the M. N. and W. is an outrage. The train was behind time, as usual, and more than normally crowded. We missed connections at Edwards and had to wait an hour and a half. The cars were filled with smoke and cinders. On the return trip a hot box delayed us another hour, and a stalled freight train filled the full measure of our woes by holding us up until dark. Dejected, dirty and disgusted, I was thankful when we finally pulled into Lincolnville."

"A hundred years ago you would have been thankful if you had a chance to travel 200 miles between sunrise and sunset," declared Postmaster Jenkins.

"I am not living a hundred years ago," said the colonel shortly. "There is this difference between the people who lived 100 years ago and those who live now—they did the best they could with the facilities at their command, and in several instances I can name we do the worst we dare. There is nothing in the records to show that the average stage company of a hundred years ago was indifferent to the safety or comfort of its patrons, a charge which can be proved against the M. N. and W. and other roads I can name."

"Nevertheless we have made wonderful progress in railroading," said Judge Sawyer. "You are prejudiced this evening because of a disagreeable and unusual experience, but you must admit that we are steadily advancing in the science of transportation."

"Not in the railroad branch of transportation," asserted Colonel Monroe, with emphasis. "For twenty years or more the passenger service on American railroads has stood still or retrograded. You look surprised. Name to me some of the improvements which have been made in that space of time. Have train speeds been increased? They have not. A study of the old time tables will show that in most cases there has been no increase in speeds except for special trains on which extra and exorbitant fares are charged. The ordinary passenger traveled from New York to Chicago in about the same time as now, and my recollection is that he traveled cheaper. There are a few trains fitted up with the common adjuncts of civilization, and this is regarded as a wonderful thing. By paying a ridiculously high fare and by bribing a clique of employees an energetic and tactful man can obtain as good service on a train as he can in an ordinary $2.50 a day hotel. For a generation we have stood in open mouthed wonder and adulation over the fact that it is possible to eat and sleep on a railroad train. To my mind it would have been much more remarkable if the contrary had developed. The most wonderful thing about the passenger branch of our railway service is the confirmed Bourbonism of its administration, the stupidity of its policy and the patience and tolerance of its patrons."

"You must have had an awful time today," laughed Judge Sawyer. "I notice that the M. N. and W. manages to pay dividends regularly, and, while the passengers may have cause for complaints, the stockholders certainly have none."

"The M. N. and W. lost money on its passenger service last year and, for that matter, for every year since it was organized," returned Colonel Monroe. "Four roads out of five have the same history and will continue to lose money until they improve their service. Those persons who are in any way conversant with railway finance are aware of the fact that, as a rule, the revenues from the freight traffic have to meet the deficit from the passenger department. It has also been thoroughly established that the higher the passenger rate the smaller the receipts and the lower the rates the larger the revenue. Despite this acknowledged truth the railway companies persist in holding rates as near the prohibitory point as the law will permit."

"There must be some good business reason for such policy," said Judge Sawyer. "Our railroad managers are reputed to be among the wisest and most shrewd of our executives. They certainly should know their business, and I believe they do."

"What you say is partly true, but it is not to the point," returned Colonel Monroe. "We undoubtedly have the best railroad men in the world, but unfortunately these men do not dictate the management of these vast properties. Twenty or thirty years ago our railroads were conducted for the benefit of their stockholders. In order to pay dividends it was found good policy to cater to the needs and wishes of the patrons of these roads. As a rule the officials were heavily interested personally in the stocks and looked for increased incomes from improved service and added traffic. Each road had one or more competitors, and each management was on the lookout for any new invention or suggestion which would give an advantage over its rival or rivals. As a consequence, inventors found a fruitful field for their genius in seeking to increase speeds, promote comfort or effect economies. It was in the period from 1865 to 1885 that American railroads made their greatest progress. This was an era of construction and of legitimate effort on the part of the financial interests which were in control of railway properties. The railroad magnate of those years was a great business man, who attained success by catering to the ever increasing demands of the country traversed by his tracks. He was personally acquainted with the leading merchants and farmers, and had ears and eyes for their demands and complaints. Those days have passed—probably forever."

"I have not noticed any radical change in railroad management," declared Judge Sawyer after a pause. "In many instances the same men are at the head of railroads as twenty or more years ago. Take the M. N. and W., for instance. Mr. Newcome is president and has been for more than a generation."

"Yes, and President Newcome has about as much to say about the affairs of the M. N. and W. as I have to say about your bank loans, and that is nothing," responded Colonel Monroe. "Years ago Mr. Newcome was the principal stockholder and the active head of affairs. Today he does not hold a share of stock and is simply a figurehead for the syndicate which controls M. N. and W. The road is combined with all of its former rivals. It is operated from Wall street, by Wall street and for Wall street. I am personally acquainted with Mr. Newcome and enjoy his confidence. I am not violating it when I say that he does not know who owns the M. N. and W. and does not care. It is a branch of a branch of one of seven lines which have been merged into a syndicate controlling 20,000 miles of track. Stock has been issued to many times its value, and only an expert can say how many kinds of bonds are piled on top of it. The man supposed to be at the head of the combine never saw Lincolnville and probably never will see it. He could not draw a map of the road if he tried. He knows less of practical railroading than I do of the vegetation of Mars, and that is mighty little. But he knows all about the gambling value of stocks and bonds. He knows when to buy and when to sell. The N. M. and W. is one of the sections in the roulette wheel, one of the cards in the faro layout, and this great 'railroad magnate' is one of the owners of the game. He bears the same relation to commerce that a tomato worm does to the plant on which it feeds. There are times when he finds his interest in the success of the road, and there are others when he is fully satisfied with the reverse. He is a gambler who always knows which way the cards will fall. When the public has a furore of buying he sells them stocks; when the public is in a panic he is the great financier who stands under the market and restores public confidence."

"You don't mean Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan, do you?" asked Postmaster Jenkins in an awed half whisper.

"I have no particular man in mind," answered the colonel. "The point I am trying to make is that our railroads are and have been run by financiers for purposes of speculation—a polite word for gambling—and not by practical railroad men for the honest profits of the traffic. An attempt is being made at the present time to wring from the public by excessive freight and passenger charges a sufficient sum of money with which to keep up the pretense of paying dividends on stocks which have been watered over and over again. A time will come when these same men, having disposed of the bulk of their holdings, will profess great fear concerning the future of railway profits. Then a panic in these 'securities' will follow, with such incidents as bankruptcy, receiverships and reorganizations. With the money realized from former operations—'operations' is what Sam Weller would have called a 'tenderer word' for what some persons specify as robbery—these Wall street railroad men will again rescue us from the swamps of failure. I am not discussing the morality of this system. It is undoubtedly respectable, being profitable. The great mass of the American people are interested in railroads from the fact that they are compelled to patronize them. The average citizen is neither a stockholder nor a railway stock speculator. I think that it can be shown that Wall street's domination of these vast properties constitutes a most serious menace to our progress as a nation and our genius as a people."

Eczema

How it reddens the skin, itches, oozes, dries and scales!

Some people call it tetter, milk crust or salt rheum.

The suffering from it is sometimes intense; local applications are resorted to—they mitigate, but cannot cure.

It proceeds from humors inherited or acquired and persists until these have been removed.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

positively removes them, has radically and permanently cured the worst cases, and is without an equal for all cutaneous eruptions.

HOOD'S PILLS are the best cathartic. Price 25 cents.

A DISGRACE.

The country schoolhouse should certainly be as attractive in appearance as the country homes which surround it, but it is very rarely the case. The average country schoolhouse with its surroundings is an utterly neglected and repulsive thing, a blur on an otherwise beautiful rural landscape, of dog kennel type of architecture, a lone tree or two trying to battle for existence in a hard sod or recover from the mutilation caused by using it for a hitching post, surrounded by a dilapidated fence and pleading for a coat of paint and an expression of patriotism from the men and women who send their boys and girls there to be educated. These things need not be and should not be. Local pride should make the schoolhouse and its grounds pleasant and attractive. It costs but little to set out a dozen good trees and care for them a few years. It needs a little paint and patriotism, just one or two women to make a kick, and it would be remedied in short order.

WHEN HE COMES WEST.

When a man from the east comes west and goes to working a farm he has some queer experiences. Trained all his life on the eastern farm to habits of the most rigid economy and saving, he is appalled at the seeming wastes on every hand connected with western agriculture. He quickly finds out that his western farm is too large and too productive to permit of the eastern ways. From the sheer force of circumstances he is forced to see lots of weeds grow in his cornfield, more or less waste of crops in the harvesting owing to the methods employed, little losses and wastes here and there all the time, just because there is so much stuff and so little help to care for it all. He does not like it at all at first, but finally comes to the sensible conclusion that if a thing costs more to save than it is worth when saved it is best to let it alone.

Almost Unavoidable.

"I suggest, gentlemen," said the juror who had been accepted last, "that in considering this case we discard the evidence of the principals, which is manifestly prejudiced, and confine ourselves to such collateral testimony as seems to be"—

"How ju git on this jury?" interrupted one of the others in astonishment.

"You remember," he replied, "that all the peremptory challenges had been exhausted, it was late, both parties were tired and hungry, and I was accepted almost without examination."—Chicago Tribune.

It has been found that the mocking bird of the south is a sworn enemy of the cotton boll weevil, and some of the cotton growing states have passed very stringent laws for the protection of this bird. Nearly all of our insect pests would be held in check by some form of bird life if man were only wise enough to permit the birds to live.

A rather significant fact which is brought to our attention is that of a man who is farming only twenty acres of land, who is building a new home with all modern conveniences, while his neighbor who tries to farm a half section is worrying about taxes, interest and hired men and gets but peace and comfort. It will be a good thing when men come to learn that it is the small farm which is the profitable one.

A serious risk is always run when seed corn is imported from a latitude of one or two hundred miles to the south of where it is to be used. The use of Illinois grown seed in Wisconsin, the north half of Iowa, South Dakota and Minnesota is almost sure to make trouble, as such seed simply cannot and will not mature a crop in the short season of the territory alluded to. It is better to have a field of corn four feet high, with forty bushels of good sound corn to the acre, than a field of corn twelve feet high and sixty bushels of soft corn to the acre, and a risk is run right here whenever seed is bought of the big seed houses who too often entirely ignore the fact referred to.

We are asked will turning the pigs into a patch of rape produce scurvy. We have one or two reports of skin disease where hogs had the run of a rape field, but whether chargeable to the rape or not we cannot tell. One thing is sure, however—we have seen more scurvy looking hogs which never saw a stalk of rape than can be found in any rape field. Plant rape for the hogs and proportion the size of the field to the number of hogs to be fed, so that they will keep it closely fed down.

We know of farmers, unskilled horsemen, whose three-year-old colts, rough, shaggy and unbroken, just in from the fields, bring them from $100 to $150, this because the horses kept to work the farm are grade Shire or Percheron mares, bred to first class heavy draft sires.

Hurts the Hair.

Hair experts say that if women keep on wearing pompadours it is only a question of time before they become bald. To be sure, it will not be quite so far reaching as a man's, but bad enough to destroy their good looks. As a forehead reaching to the middle of the crown is not considered a mark of beauty, it behooves women to "watch a leetle out" for the receding hair line. One way of preventing its becoming noticeable is when arranging the hair for the night to brush it in the opposite direction from which it has been worn all day. This rests the hair and keeps it from becoming warped in one direction.

PARKER IS NOMINATED.

Made the Democratic Standard Bearer on the First Ballot.

St. Louis, Mo., (10:15 a. m.)—After an all night session the Democratic National convention nominated Judge Alton B. Parker, of New York, for President at 6 o'clock this morning. The nomination was on the first ballot and was immediately made unanimous.

The platform was adopted unanimously amid great enthusiasm.

The candidate for Vice President will be named this afternoon.

ST. LOUIS, July 9.—The Democratic national convention Friday night adopted a platform by a viva voce vote and listened to nominating speeches for president. Judge Alton B. Parker was nominated by Martin W. Littleton and William Randolph Hearst by D. M. Delmas. Both orators were applauded at length.

Nominating speeches for favorite son candidates and seconding speeches for both Parker and Hearst occupied the convention for several hours. The convention seats about 10,000 but from appearance hundreds more have been admitted.

The floor, and lower and upper galleries contained thousands of sweltering men and women, oblivious to the fact that the crowded condition of the hall endangers every life.

L. Irving Handy, of Delaware nominated Judge George Gray. He began by saying:

"Delaware offers to you her noblest, bravest and best," and a cheer went up led by the Delaware delegation.

At 12:03 o'clock Illinois was called and Clarence Darrow, of that state, was presented and began a speech seconding the nomination of Hearst. He made this fact plain at the name of Hearst the galleries vented their enthusiasm.

Mr. Darrow concluded at 12:18 o'clock.

INDIANA SECONDS PARKER.

Indania was called next and J. W. Kern responded to second the nomination of Judge Parker.

At 12:29 a. m. Mr. Kern concluded and the state of Iowa was called. A delegate sprang to his chair and declared a second to Mr. Hearst.

Kansas was called and Judge Johnson was recognized to second the Hearst nomination.

Judge Johnson concluded, the chair recognized David Overmyer, of Kansas, who placed General Nelson A Miles in nomination.

12.59 a. m.—David Overmeyer nominates General Nelson A. Miles.

1.14 a. m.—Motion to limit seconding speeches to four minutes was put to vote and carried.

1.22 a. m.—Delegate of Kansas seconds nomination of Parker.

1.23 a. m.—Thomas H. Ball, of Texas seconds nomination of Parker.

1.29 a. m.—Champ Clark, of Missouri, nominated Senator Cockrell for president.

1.45 a. m.—Demoetration continues hearty. Band playing "Dixie." Flags were unfurled from all the galleries. Demostration is most picturesque and in-so-far as galleries are concerned most enthusiastic which has occurred.

1.47 a. m.—Nebraska has carried her standard over to Missouri. Kansas has also moved to that position. Convention hall is now one mass of waving flags.

1.58 a. m.—Uproar has again broke out with renewed and steady cheering.

2.03 a. m.—Missouri's standard has been carried to platform creating another fierce renewal of the cheering and flag waving.

2.06 a. m.—Clark is trying to resume his speech.

2.07 a. m.—Clark closed.

2.10 a. m.—Mayor Patrick A. Collins, of Boston, rose to nominate Richard Olney. Mention of Olney's name heartily cheered.

2.17 a. m.—Collins closes.

2.26 a. m.—When Nebraska was called there were loud calls for Bryan.

2.27 a. m.—After many calls Bryan mounted a chair and received an ovation.

He announced that Nebraska yielded to Wisconsin.

2.32 a. m.—David S. Rose, mayor of Milwaukee, was recognized and took the platform to place Edward C. Wall in nomination.

3.04 a. m.—Rose closes.

3.05 a. m.—Ballot is apparently in sight.

Buffalo Chamber of Commerce Indorse The Interchangeable Mileage Ticket.

At a recent meeting of the Buffalo Chamber of Commerce the following resolution indorsing the Interchangeable Mileage Ticket, used by the Pennsylvania Railroad and other lines, was adopted:—

"The introduction of interchangeable one thousand-mile milage books, good for passage on various trunk lines entering Buffalo or in the territory tributary to Buffalo, largely through the efforts of the Trunk Line Passenger Committee, provided a decided advantage to our merchants, manufacturers, and commercial salesmen, which was long sought for; and

WHEREAS, After a practical use of such mileage book, in place of an individual book on each railroad, has demonstrated the usefulness and material saving of money invested on the part of our merchants, manufacturers, and commercial salesmen in transportation and is attested by the increasing use of such interchangeable books therefore be it

Resolved, That the Transportation Committee of the Chamber of Commerce heartily commend the members of the Trunk Line Passenger Committee and similar committees for their efforts in securing the introduction of such interchangeable milage books; and be it

Further Resolved, That the Transportation Committee respectfully urges the said Trunk Line Passenger Committee to take such action as may be necessary to secure the adoption of such mileage book by all railroads and their connections, and be it.

Further Resolved, That the Transportation Committee of the Chamber of Commerce respectfully solicits the co-operation of other commercial organizations to secure the objects of this resolution"

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Mary A. Miller, a maiden lady who has been a most faithful domestic in the home of Dr. J. W. Dunwiddie for upwards of thirty-seven years, died at the latter's residence Wednesday night at 10:30, after an illness of a couple of months, from a complication of ailments, chiefly blood-poison.

The deceased was a native of Centre county, and was in her 67th year. From girlhood she had been a devout christian, a consistent member of the United Brethren church, and died a triumphant death. She was a noble character, and will be as much missed in the Dunwiddie home as if she had been a member of the family. The fact is she had always been recognized as one of the family. She is survived by two brothers and two sisters, viz: William, living near Hannah; John residing at Ramey, and Misses Sarah M., and Jane C., of Bellefonte.

The funeral took place from the Dunwiddie home Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock,

ABOUT THE WOODCOCK.

The Passing of a Game Bird Sportsmen Love.

The American woodcock (Philohela Minor), one of the most notable game birds of the this continent, is becoming scarcer every year, and its extermination is only a question of a short time, unless something is done to preserve it.

The United States department of agriculture has issued a pamphlet which states that this is one of the vanishing birds. The woodcock would not be generally missed as would the robin, blue bird and numerous other birds that are known to everyone, but he would be sadly missed by the sportsmen and naturalists, who are well acquainted with the magnificent bird, as they visited him in his home in the woodland, swamp and stream, where he lies concealed in the daytime, being nocturnal in his habits. This bird is scarcer than other game birds, chiefly on account of its limited range—always inhabiting swampy land—while other birds range widely. Then, too, it is easy to approach, being generally difficult to flush, and it only becomes necessary for the hunter to go over the ground thoroughly. The woodcock is not so hard to hit as most other game birds, and as he does not fly far, can easily be "marked down," and if missed, followed from place to place until secured. The legal summer season for these birds opens on July 1 and continues throughtout this month and the fall seasons opens October 15 and closed on December 12. July is not the time to hunt woodcock, as the birds are poor flyers, not in very good condition, and as they breed until late in the year, there are many young birds scarcely able to fly that are shot by unprincipal sportsmen. But some men contend that the fall season comes too late, as most of the birds have migrated southward by that time and that the southern sportsmen get the good shooting. But they don't as there are very few birds left any more to go south. Let all the sportsmen in the state unite in a movement to have the woodcock season closed for the next five years, at least, in order to give the birds a chance to increase, and at the end of that time fix a suitable season. Is it not better to do so than to exterminate this lovely game bird?

DON'T BE WOOZY!

NERO

was a most crafty Roman, but he made one mistake.

He committed suicide at the wrong end of his life.

He should have shuffled off at the beginning.

A great many business men today are committing business suicide at the wrong end of their lives

They mean well at the start, but drift away from their good resolutions.

One means of a long and prosperous business life is to have good printing and stationery.

A business is judged by its printed matter.

THE REPUBLICAN

Job Printing Department is prepared to furnish the best.

Cost is a secondary consideration when you consider the quality—sufficient it is to say our prices are so reasonable that it would be a waste of shoe leather to look further.

It has a distinctiveness all its own—a something that distinguishes it from the common trash of the ordinary shop.

Again we say:

"Don't be Woozy."

EDITORIAL.

THE NATIONAL CONVENTIONS.

What a wonderful object lesson the two great national conventions have given the voters of this country.

The Republican convention was harmonious, rational and dignified, its platform a history of past promises fulfilled during fifty years of national existence and of future pledges based on past performance, its proceedings conducted by the foremost men not only of the party, but of the nation, whose public utterances have been followed with world wide interest.

The Democratic convention, during most of its session a turbulent mob, exemplified the power of bossism. "Dave" Hill, for years termed the "Peanut" politician by those who formerly defeated him in his own party, dictated the candidate and the platform amid scenes of the wildest irregularities. The platform itself, a faint echo of Republicanism without any guarantee of the party's former history, is, in words, a complete repudiation of its old free trade and free silver theories.

The issues are now made for the country's decision. Which will we choose, the party of progress and performance or that of repudiation and vague promises, the party of Roosevelt, Root, Hay and Cannon or that of Parker, Hill, Tillman and Champ Clark.

Because the Democracy promises to be good this year is no reason why it may not repudiate all its good resolutions in its next year's convention. The people of the United States have trusted for the last time "the Party of Opportunity," they learned their lesson a decade ago, the world moves on and the Democracy has not yet caught ith the procession.

"We have the money power with us this time", is the new Democratic boast. Shades of Bryan. For eight long years the Democracy posed as the champions of the oppressed and downtrodden, now "Wall Street", against which their orators have raved and stormed in every election district of the country, has them body and soul.

What a time this is for the "gold" Democrats. "The party will come to us" has been their cry; and now that the unexpected has happened they dont know what to do with it

SWALLOW FOR PRESIDENT.

The Prohibition national convention has conferred the empty honor of the nomination for President on Dr. Silas C. Swallow, the "fighting parson" of Pennsylvania and it goes without saying that he will be heard from during the campaign. This genial and eloquent Doctor of Divinity is a familiar figure in politics and while he may not be able to poll as many votes as General Miles would have received, he will surely add more life to the campaign.

In the pending political contest, however, Prohibition will not cut a very wide swath, the indications pointing to a marked decrease rather than an increase in the vote. Thousands of those formerly affiliated with the movement have learned that the prohibition of the liquor traffic is not to be obtained along present Prohibition party lines, and for that reason are losing faith and drifting into other political channels.

The convention that nominated Dr. Swallow adopted an extravagant platform, composed largely of abuse of the Republican party in accordance with past precedents. But Dr. Swallow and the platform will be forgotten in the avalanche of votes next November.

With Parker holding up the action of the Democratic convention with his peremptory telegram and Davis, an octoginarian, as their leaders, it is easy to sympathize with a sorrowing Democrat who styles them "Dictator and Dotard."

SNOW SHOE.

Last week you had no reminder of the existence of a Snow Shoe scribe—H. W. Faus spent the Fourth at Lumber City.

The Reverend Mr. Gepman pastor of the First Presbyterian Church at Barnesboro, Pa., is visiting Rev. H. J. Schuchart the Methodist minister, Mr. and Mrs. Schuchart royally entertained about twenty five young people at the parsonage on Tuesday evening in honor of their guest. There was no speechifying" but Miss Margaret Stuart of State College, and Mr. Seth Brumm, of Pottsville, did credit to themselves by means of the piano. Another feature was the mysterious writing and the interpretation thereof by Messrs. Gilliland and Faus, all together now! what was the watchword of the evening? "Cherries." Again we say everybody had a rousing good time!

W. C. Snyder was away on a business trip the early part of the week.

The Epworth League is planning to hold a "Gypsy Camp Social" Friday evening of this week in the park opposite Dr. Young's residence. Everybody is invited to come and incidentally, to bring with them any loose change that they can rake up by that time.

The Misses Quigley and Craighead and Messers. Beaver and Hoy, all of Bellefonte, spent Sunday and Monday at W. C. Snyder's.

Judge Faus has issued an injunction against the chorus of young people who were so musically inclined as to give vent on Monday night to their overflow of talent in a series of very hilarious, slumber—disturbing songs. The injunction precludes all possibility of a repetition of the offense.

Mr. Jas. E. Leisering, of Marsteller, was here for the Fourth.

Mr. Wm. Gilliland and sister spent Tuesday and Wednesday at the residence of Mr. R. C. Gilliland.

The storm passing through this place last Friday was the most severe that we have had for years. Two rain clouds united just west of Snow Shoe and almost immediately after joining the rain came in torrents. Creeks were transformed into rivers; gutters into creeks; and streets into canals. The water washed the debris from the hillsides and deposited it on the streets, lawns and in cellars and houses. The drain pipes on Moshannon avenue were unable to carry the water away and the railroad was washed badly in many places. W. A. Sickle had the rear part of his house badly flooded and at Mr. Harris Watson's residence, the stream changed its course and completely devastated his garden. In the course of two hours the beautiful green lawns of our streets were transformed into a river bed and the hotel DeBum was situated in a lake. While the water dashed through the doors and windows clerks Corum and Hays took advantage of the opportunity and scrubbed the floor..

Prof. D. Paul Fortney, of Bellefonte, spent the Fourth with friends in town.

The Fourth passed but not without some casuality to blight the anniversary of the nations birth. At an early hour of the morning the neighbors were startled by the shrieks of children. Lula, the six year old daughter of W. D. O'Brien was in flames while her sister was trying to extinguish the flames with her hands. Their parents came to the rescue and succeeded in smothering the flames only after the children were burned very severely. The girls had been lighting firecrackers and the fire caught the lawn of the little girls dress.

The greatest base ball game of the season was played on July 4th at Oak Hill, between two pick-up teams, the Hot Air and Pottersdale, the former coming off victorious by a score of 9 to 5, the game was very exciting and full of sensational plays, notably among them being the fielding of Brumm and Yarnell and the pitching of Calhoun and Gilliland. It was a close contest for the honors and the treatment accorded the visiting team was the very best. Great credit is due manager Crandall and Capt. Kech for the fine playing of the Hot Air team.

We wish to state that Snow Shoe now posseses a new industry or chemical works, known as Kelley's Cream Lilly Co. They are now working on a compound to restore youth to the aged.

Miss May Kelley has returned home.

Miss Sue McGority is visiting at Houtzdale.

While the Democratic convention was in the greatest confusion at St. Louis and the Bryan followers were looking broadcast for a silver tongued candidate to turn the tide from a Parker landslide into a Bryan victory, the Hon. Wm. Harpster appeared on our streets talking and greeting old friends. He was soon approached on the subject of politics and insisted upon to be a candidate but refused. He says he prefers to remain as a private citizen rather than a public servant and live at his country home in German Settlement with his wife rather than dwell in the White House.

The Catholic Total Abstinence Society is holding its annual State convention at Johnstown this week. This took from our town as delegates John A. Kelley and Manual Burns representing the Mens department and Mrs. H. P. Kelley and Mrs. Ed Quick representing the ladies department of that organization.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

World's Fair Factories.

St. Louis, Mo., One of the most interesting groups of exhibits at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition will be that of stationery located in the Palace of Manufactures. Stationery displays at all previous expositions have simply been composed of paper, pens, pencils, inks, note books, and all the manifold articles of a stationery store, piled on shelves and exhibited in show cases. There was nothing especially attractive, aside from the exquisite workmanship of the articles on exhibition.

But the stationery exhibits at the World's Fair of 1904 will be one of life and activity. There will be one model factory in full operation turning out gold pens, and the visitors can see the entire process of manufacture from the time the molten gold leaves the crucible and is stretched into long, tiny ribbons of the precious metal and passes through wonderful machines to the point when the finished pen is ready for use. Another model plant in full operation will manufacture fountain and stylographic pens of the latest improved varieties.

There will be two paper box factories in operation one for paper boxes with metal edges, and the other for straight paper boxes.

Ruling machines for ruling blank books will be in operation.

These model factories will be found in the Palace of Manufactures, and they will carry out to the full the central idea of the entire exposition, life and motion. An educational value is found in these exhibits, never duplicated at other expositions, for here the finished products and the processes of manufacture are seen together. There will be large displays of gold, steel, fountain and stylographic pens.

The lead pencils of the world's manufactures will be displayed only as finished products.

In the Palace of Varied Industries will be shown a factory turning out paper bags for grocers to use in delivering sugar, coffee and even milk.

The finest artists of Japan, Mexico and France, the countries noted for pyrography, will show their skill and genius in burnt leather work in the Varied Industries Palace.

In the stationery sections of the Varied Industries and the Manufactures Palaces will be seen beautiful displays of memorandum books, note books, letter copying books, book cases, letter files, menu cards playing cards, packages of cigarette papers, desk furnishings, inks, penholders, crayon holders, wax and wafers, paper weights ink stands letter presses, and also paints, canvasses, easels and all the numerous artists' materials for painting, architecture, sculpture, pyrography and drawing.

"The Hungry Five."

A club of young men who call themselves "The Hungry Five," are out camping along the banks of Spring Creek near long reach. They are a jolly crowd of boys and no doubt will have a royal good time. The club is composed of Edward Brown, Charley Barner, Edward Shields of Bellefoute and Joe Snyder and Carl Auer of Altoona. They expect to be out ten days along this romantic creek and will pass the time fishing swimming and boating.

Robert Kelly, of Worth township, had a barn raising on Saturday the 9th.

Squire Vinton Beckwith had his barn raising on Saturday July 9th 1904 and there was plenty of help present and everything passed off in good shape. The most of the hard lifting was over by dinner time when the men sat down to a sumptuous dinner. The work was all done before the hard rain set in. Mr. William Laird, the carpenter that framed the barn made a complete fit of his work and that is the reason the work went on in good shape. William is a first class workman and after raising, the men had some fun by raising the Squire. He ran like a white head but they flanked him, brought him back and raised him.

Many a woman would make a beautiful bride but she is deterred from entering the married state because of ill-health.

$500 REWARD FOR WOMEN

WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

The proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

"If women would study the laws of health and use a little more common sense there would not be such a large number to-day suffering with the ills peculiar to our sex," writes Mrs. Sallie Martins (President Mutual Social Science Club), of 180 South Halstead Street, Chicago, Ill. "Then when medicine is needed if they would take the 'Favorite Prescription,' they would have a chance to get well. I used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription three years ago and it cured me of female weakness of several years' standing, so I know what I am talking about when I praise it and always know what the result will be where it is used."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

IT MUST BE TRUE.

Bellefonte Readers must Come to that Conclusion.

It is not the telling of a single case in Bellefonte but scores of citizens testify. Endorsement by people you know bears the stamp of truth. Then following is one of the public statements made in this locality about Doan's Kidney Pills.

Geo. Gross of Water Street says: "In the summer of 1895 I used Doan's Kidney Pills for backache, procuring them from the Bush Block drug store. Accompanying the pain in my back was an annoyance from the kidney secretions. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me after I had been troubled for years. I thought I was going to have backache again but two years afterwards I went fishing got soaked through and this ended in effecting my back I again restored my old cure Doan's Kidney Pills and they did me good immediately although in the meantime I had taken other remedies but without obtaining relief. I can as conscientiously recommend Doan's Kidney Pills now as I did formerly for backache or kidney trouble."

THE OPENING GUN.

John Sharp Williams, the Temporary Chairman of Democratic Convention.

ST. LOUIS, July 6.—The Democratic National convention met Wednesday, listened to an extended speech from Representative John Sharp Williams, its temporary chairman, appointed the committees necessary to perfect a permanent organization and adjourned. In a session lasting two hours and fifty minutes one striking incident overshadowed all other proceedings. That was the enthusiastic and prolonged cheering which greeted the name of Grover Cleveland. While the outburst which greeted the name of the former Democratic President, before its last syllable had fallen from the lips of the temporary chairman was noteworthy in itself, it was magnified by contrast with the greetings accorded the actual persons of men who stood for all that has been opposed to Mr. Cleveland within the party during the last eight years.

James K. Jones, of Arkansas, chairman of the National Committee, went onto the platform and took his seat unnoticed. Practically no greeting was given him when he faced the convention with gavel in hand.

There were other stalwart lieutenants of the Nebraskan, who entered the hall unacclaimed and lastly Mr. Bryan himself, who for the first time during two national campaigns was greeted with silence. Eight minutes after the gavel fell the twice named candidate of his party passed in the main entrance and sought his seat unheralded and unheeded. A few moments later he arose and pushed his way to a seat nearer the aisle where, standing a moment to give greetings to his friends, he was caught sight of and applauded.

Listening attentively to the Democratic doctrines laid down by Mr. Williams the conservatives found occasion for the first demonstration when reference was made to the record of Former President Cleveland. All the shackled party interest which had lain dormant through two national campaigns was released as by the touch of a trigger. The name of Cleveland was echoed from a thousand throats. Hats, handkerchiefs, fans and arms were waved, delegates and spectators stood on their chairs and the last semblance of order was turned into confusion which convention officials were powerless to subdue.

While the outburst was at its height Mr. Bryan's following attempted to convert the demonstration into applause for their leader The name of Bryan was yelled lustily but in vain. Shouting of "Grover" and "Cleveland" was renewed and the Bryan following was hissed. The greatest significance was attached to the showing made by the conservatives. Their absolute control of the convention is no longer doubted even by those who have heretofore declined to be convinced. The nomination of Judge Parker for President is assured beyond any possibility of defeat.

An incident to the demonstration was an altercation between Sergeant-at-arms John I Martin and an over-zealous man who was giving vent to his enthusiasm in a manner which the convention officials deemed offensive.

As Chairman Williams was knocking splinters from his desk in an effort to pound the convention into order so that he could proceed with his address, a man in the vicinity of the New York delegation was seen motioning delegates and spectators to continue their applause and encouraging the galleries to ignore the chairman's order for silence. The man resented interference from the sergeant-at-arms and in the end was ejected from the convention hall. The disturbance was of a rough and tumble order though no blows were struck.

The great coliseum where the convention is held is admirably adapted to accommodate the surging crowds which pressed for admission as soon as the doors were opened. Before 11 o'clock the spectators' seats began to fill, although the space on the floor allotted to delegates and their alternates remained barren until noon, when the session was called to order.

The applause which greeted Mr. Williams at the conclusion of his speech attested his popularity with the delegates. Though they had heard only a small part of what he had said, the cheering by delegates and spectators amounted to an ovation.

As the preliminary business of naming working committees was completed, the delegates started to leave the hall. Announcement of the meeting places of the Committees an Resolution, Credentials Permanent, Organization was made and at 2:50 the convention adjourned until 10 o clock today.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

The Killing of Harry Shoff.

Harry M. Shoff, the young lawyer who was killed at Irvona on the night of July Fourth, was known to some of the News readers. Concerning the affair the Philipsburg Journal of the 6th furnishes the following details:

It seems that during the day a young man named Romey Loymeir had gotten into some trouble, and Mr. Shoff had defended him. At a late hour in the night Shoff stopped at a tough joint where Loymeir and another young man were known to be, to collect his fees. Shoff was looked upon more as an intruder than simply there to collect his bill, with the result that a regular fight occurred. In the scuffle Shoff was struck on the back of the head, presumably with a rock, and killed, although Loymeir insists that he hit him with his fist, and had no thought of killing Shoff.

Loymeir gave himself up at once, and this morning passed through Philipsburg in the custody of an officer en route to Clearfield jail. We learn he expresses the deepest regret over the affair; says he was drinking and not conscious of what he was doing, but is willing to "take the medicine" that may be administered as a penalty for the crime. He is a rather fine looking young man, unmarried, and aged about 25 years.

Shoff was aged about 31 years, unmarried and comes from one of the best known families in the vicinity of Madera. His parents are dead, but many relatives survive. He had studied law under Thos. H. Murray and Judge Smith, was admitted to the bar and served a term as county auditor.

THE DEMOCRACY.

Their National Convention at St. Louis.

St. Louis, July 8.—The democratic national convention Thursday adopted the report of the committee on rules, credentials and permanent organization, The session opened at 10 o'clock, an hour later took a recess until 2 p. m., and adjourned at 6:20 until 10 o'clock today.

During the day several speeches were made, chief of which was William Jennings Bryan's effort to over throw the report of the credentials' committee and seat contesting delegates from Illinois. The controversy was ended by the rejection of the minority report of the committee by a vote of 647 nays to 299 ayes. Though Mr. Bryan's speech and his appearance on the floor of the convention was cheered far beyond any previous demonstration, it made few votes. The alignment of delegates proved the correctness of previous estimates of the division between those who favor the radicals and those who are supporting the conservative element which is now in control.

When the result of the contest was announced the report of the committee on permanent organization was made. Representative Champ Clark who was chosen permanent chairman, addressed the convention. He had prepared and furnished to the press a speech of great length. The hour was so late when he gained the platform, however, that he spoke about 300 words and left his audience to read the remainder.

It remained for the afternoon session to create that degree of strife which makes a convention interesting to the masses. This was the contest relating to the Illinois delegation. It was known that Mr. Bryan would take an active part in the matter at odds believed to be over-wheimingly against him. The galleries and other space in the hall allotted to spectators showed how great a drawing card he is. Practically every seat was occupied and the aisles were crowded.

Indianapolis, July 8.—Oliver W. Stewart, chairman of the National Prohibition Committee, said Thursday, that the Rev. Silas C. Swallow, of Harrisburg, Pa., Prohibition nominee for President, has not declined and will not decline the nomination. The Prohibitionists, he said, are not going to hold another convention, and the party is not going into any alliance with any one.

Mr. Stewart declined to state for what purpose Tomlinson Hall had been engaged for July 20, 21 and 22.

SWALLOW DISCUSSES CAMPAIGN PLANS.

Harrisburg July 8.—Details of the Prohibition campaign in Pennsylvania this year were discussed at a conference here Thursday between Rev. Dr. Silas C. Swallow, the nominee for President, and Charles R. Jones, chairman of the Pennsylvania State Committee. Dr. Swallow will go to Indianapolis on July 22 to attend the mass meeting, at which he will be formally notified of his nomination.

No False Claims.

The proprietors of Foley's Honey and Tar do not advertise this as a "sure cure for consumption." They do not claim it will cure this dread complaint in advanced cases, but do positively assert that it will cure in the earlier stage and never fails to give comfort and relief in the worst cases. Foley's Honey and Tar is without doubt the greatest throat and lung remedy. Refuse substitutes. C. M. Parrish.

A New Water Supply for Winburne.

Clement Dale, J. W. Wetzel, James J. Fisher, Geurney Freeman and Frank F. Irwin constituted a commission appointed by the court to view the premises and assess damages to property owners by reason of taking water from the Black Bear run to supply the Winburne Water Company with water. On Wednesday of last week the above accompanied by Judge Furst and Judge Krebe with two engineers visited the grounds driving from Philipsburg to Black Bear run sometimes called four mile run. This is one of the finest fresh water streams in Centre County. The Winburne Water Company is a corporation organized to supply Winburne and the vicinity with water. This company proposed to erect a dam across Black Bear run five miles above Winburne and from there to conduct the water pipes to the town. The volumn of water in the stream is estimated at 3,362,000 gallons a day. At present it will require but 40,000 gallons per day to supply the town. After the works are put in operation the costs of supplying the town with water will be very small.

Piles Upon top of Piles.

Piles upon top of piles of people have the Piles, and DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cures them. There are many different kinds of Piles, but if you get the genuine and original Witch Hazel Salve made by E. C. DeWitt & Co. of Chicago, a cure is certain. H. A. Tisdale, of Summerton, S. C., says, "I had piles 20 years and DeWitt's Salve cured me after everything else failed. Sold by Greens Pharmacy.

It looks as though the orange business is being overdone. More oranges are being produced than the people can consume. They have been as cheap as potatoes all through the west during the winter.

The wonderful and continued prosperity of the south is one of the most interesting features of the present economic development of the country. It seems strange that it has been so long delayed.

It will pay any farmer big money to give a trolley company a free right of way across his farm.

A few of those Igorottes from the Philippines with a fierce appetite for dog meat could be made use of in almost any civilized community.

Minnesota has a law which forbids the keeping of hogs at slaughter houses to eat the offal of the animals killed—on the face of it not a bad law.

The highways in many parts of Germany are lined with handsome rows of fruit trees. Their product is protected by law and when fit to pick is sold at auction and the proceeds devoted to the improvement of the highway. The European does some things better than the American.

If you want to realize what the development of the cold storage industry has done for the country recall the time a few years ago when your April and May eggs sold for 6 cents a dozen and the best butter you could make for 10 cents a pound. Cold storage has doubled the price to the producer of both commodities.

All through the corn belt it is now well settled that the silo offers the cheapest and most economical method of getting all the value out of the corn crop and securing a supply of succulent winter forage for the stock on the farm. This truth makes headway slowly, but the time is coming when the silo will be an accompaniment of the big red barn on every well man-

While the sheep may be rightly said to wear the golden hoof when kept on the farm, no animal is more destructive when given the range of land desired for the growth of timber. The sheep should be absolutely excluded from all the forest reserves set apart by the government.

We noticed a statement recently made by one of the big packers to the effect that there was an actual money loss to him of $7 in buying a steer and selling the meat and that he had to depend upon the offal and byproducts to make this loss good and give him his profit. One can do as he pleases about believing this offal story.

We have a great respect for what we call an emergency man, the man who when the unexpected turns up is equal to the occasion, the man who if he finds a thing cannot be done in one way knows how to try another, the man who, given general directions, has sense and wit enough to work out the details of how to do it in the right way. Such men are pretty scarce, but would be more plentiful if our boys were better trained.

The west, the prairie section where the dirt road is the only road possible, is to be indebted to a Missouri farmer for a cheap and very simple device—a ten inch log, ten feet long, split, and the two sections fastened one behind the other—to be used in smoothing down the rough and rutty highway, and from the use of which most satisfactory results are obtained. It is the rut which holds the rainfall and makes the mudhole. Banish the rut and we get rid of the mud. This is so simple and cheap that it should come into general use at once.

Cold Cream.

No toilet table is complete without a jar of cold cream made of oil of white poppy, four ounces; oil of almonds, two ounces; white wax, one-half ounce; balsam of Peru, two drams. Melt the wax, add the oils and beat together until they form a cream, then add the balsam and lastly a little rosewater. This is an emollient which may be used with good effect once or twice a week, after the bath, to whiten and soften the hands, neck and arms.

WHEN AND HOW TO PRUNE.

It is a good time now to prune the fruit trees where they need it. The water sprouts at the base of the trunk should be all removed; also all cross limbs and deformed ones. A light, fine toothed saw is the best tool for this work, and it is a good idea to have a little pot of paint along to give the wound on the tree a dab. Pruning done at this season (May) insures the quick healing of the cuts, as the sap is about in full flow. The work of pruning should never be delayed so that limbs over an inch in diameter have to be removed.

CHAPTER OF CLIPPINGS.

Both Amusing and Practical Thoughts by Various Editors.

A hen sits on her nest and lays eggs. An editor sits on his office chair and lies in his bed—or in his paper. The hen "feathers her nest;" the editor does not—he cuts his own throat by doing business for nothing simply to keep his competitors from getting it. The hen cackels after she has laid a good, fresh egg; the editor cackels about what he is going to do, but seldom does it. Sensible hen. The hen scratches for a living, so does the editor. The hen hatches chickens that comes to some good, most editors hatch schemes that never amount to anything. The hen presents her bill when she wants something and usually gets it; the editor presents his bill and hardly ever gets anything. The hen has a comb which she doesn't use; the editor may have a comb and use it sometimes, but not always. The hen has wings; the editor has none and never will have. The hen isn't a high flyer; the editor—is sometimes. The hen broods and raises a large family. The editor broods over how he is going to raise the large family he already has. The hen is a rooster when she sleeps; that's queer. The editor is a queer rooster all the time. The hen often gets cooped; the editor gets s-cooped, too, sometimes. The hen often gets it in the neck, so does the editor. Sometimes the hen crows; the editor almost all the time, but no one ever knows why.

Every good advertiser helps to build up the community. Every merchant who fails to advertise is not only neglecting an opportunity which could be used to his own advantage, but he fails to help the town to grow when it might be gradually coming to a point of more importance as a trading centre, and where it would offer him a better field for the extension of his business. People wonder why some towns are considered live and others dead. They do not understand that the live town is the abiding place of live merchants, and that the dead town is a place where the worst sort of business men are making a futile effort to keep business from going to pieces by inadequate, second rate advertising.

This is the age of newspaper reading. There may be some better way in the future for the dissemination of news, but at the present time the daily newspaper is read by practically every one in the community. Primarily, it is taken for the current news of the day. But let no advertiser delude himself into the notion that he can remain out of the paper for long periods of time and remain prominently before the reading public as an up-to-date merchant. Newspaper advertising to be most effective should be continuous.

In the business, as in the natural world, the law of cause and effect is the supreme statute. When the cause is right the effect is inevitably right. This rule is as true of the relation of advertising to business prosperity as though it were made to fit it.

It is a strange fact that the person who don't subscribe for a paper, is the first to find fault with something in it, or that there is no news in it. Better for such a person to deep his hands off a paper some body else pays for.

Two Bottles Cured Him.

"I was troubled with kidney complaint for about two years." writes A. H. Davis, of Mt. Sterling, Ia., "but two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure effected a permanent cure." C. M. Parrish.

—Have you ever tried DR. PRICE'S WHEAT FLAKE CELERY FOOD. It is palatable, nutritious, easy of digestion and ready to eat, made from high grade wheat, Celery infused. In the process of making, not a human hand touches it from start to finish. If eaten freely at bed time it produces refreshing sleep. Ask your grocer for it.

Hospitality at Small Expense.

BRIEF MENTION

Short Items of Local Interest Gathered By The Way Side

—Mrs. R. V. Pugh is having a substantial flagstone pavement laid in front of her residence on West Curtin street.

—A little son of George Everhart fell on the boardwalk near his home on Thursday and broke his leg near the knee.

—The King Bridge company of Cleveland was the lowest bidder for the construction of an iron bridge over the North Branch at Danville. The price is $134,900

—Philip Crider has so far recovered from his recent serious illness that on Sunday evening he was able to walk out in the garden of the Crider residence on Linn street.

—Albert Thompson and Frank Bartley under the firm name of Thompson & Bartley have purchased Henry Taylor's livery business back of Parrish's drug store and took charge of same on Monday.

—John S. Laird a well known surveyor, was found dead in bed Thursday morning at his home in Williamsport. He had been an invalid for the past year, but Wednesday was feeling much better than for some time.

—Miss Adaline Owewine gave an evening party at her home on North Spring street Thursday evening. The guests from a distance were Miss Edna Clark and Lillian Brown of Williamsport; Ella and Ruth Bottorf, of Lemont. It proved a most pleasant occasion.

—James Noonen, the landlord at the Brant House, who has been ill for six week's with inflammatory rheumatism had so far recovered as to be able to sit out on his front porch on nice days. We hope that he may soon be fully restored to his former good health.

—If every man was fair enough to himself to go down into his own heart and hunt out the motive that prompted him to act, there are a great many things he would never do, and he would often apologize to himself for harboring a mean revengeful thought. Reflection has saved many a man.

—Captain Harry Hyde, a popular citizen of Ridgway, lost his right hand by an explosion of fireworks on Fourth of July night. The accident occurred at Hyde's club house eight miles from Ridgway. The injured man was hurridly taken to the Ridgway hospital, where the hand was amputated above the wrist.

—The Pennsylvania Mining & Smelting Company are holding an adjourned meeting at the Bush House today. This is the company organized by Robert F. Hunter and who operated many valuable zinc mines in Missouri. Those attending the meeting from a distance are C. J. Voris and I. J. Higbee of Milton, Rev. C. T. Aikens of Pine Grove Mills and Rev. C. T. Gephart of Milroy.

—Father McArdle is arranging for a Mission to be conducted in St. John's Catholic church by the Paulist Father's of New York. It will open October 26th and continue two weeks. The first week will be for Catholics and the second for non-catholics. The Paulist Fathers are able speakers and Father McArdle has been trying for over a year to get them here. We have no doubt that the meetings will meet with great success and be largely attended.

—The blaze supposed to be of incendiary origin, the coal tipple, engine house and several outbuildings of the Altoona Coal and Coke company of the Delaney mills, north of Kittaning Point, were destroyed by fire Sunday. The fire was discovered at 5 o'clock in the morning, and was not extinguished until evening, when the Pennsylvania Railroad fire company, 1808, of Altoona, suppressed the flames, it having been ordered to the scene earlier in the day. Three massive boilers were completely destroyed with the other property, and the loss will amount to several thousand dollars. It is supposed a crazy woman set the place on fire to burn up a man she did not like.

—A second landslide on the Pennsylvania railroad occurred Saturday night at Buttermilk Falls, near Conemaugh, which did considerable more damage than the big one on Friday night of last week. The heavy rains and the deep trenches worn by the water had undermined the earth on the hillside and with the heavy downpour Saturday evening the ground and stone were carried to the hollow and covered the railroad. Ground, stone and water covered the tracks several feet deep, from Conemaugh to South Fork. Main Line Express which is due at Johnstown at 8:34, had just passed through the cut but an east bound freight was caught. The heavy stone and ground came down on the train with such terrific force that four freight cars were completely demolished. All traffic was blocked for several hours.

—The Logan Fire Company are trying to arrange for a Carnival to be held here during the latter part of August or the first week in September.

—Harry Saylor landed a twenty inch trout Thursday near the trestle at Penn Match Works. It was a California fish and certainly was a "beauty."

—On Monday the 18 inst the Bellefonte Central R. R. Co., will reduce the train service from three trains to two trains each way. Will leave Bellefonte at 6:30 a. m. and 1.25 p. m.

—Hives are a terrible torment to the little folks, and to some older ones. Easily cured. Doan's Ointment never fails. Instant relief, permanent cure. At any drug store, 50 cents.

—California naval oranges are just now in their prime, we have fine qualities in all sizes, and prices are quite moderate. We have bananas, fine fruit, and lemons of exceptional quality.

—Fine lemons, ripe, juicy fruit at 15c, 20c, 30c, and 40cts, per dozen. The finest fruit we have ever sold at these prices in July or August. Fine oranges at 30c, 40c, and 50c, per dozen. Fine bananas and pine apples at very reasonable prices. Sechler & Co.

—The "Jim Crow" law which was passed by the last Legislature of Maryland, went into effect July 1st. It compels all railroads entering that state to provide separate accommodations for the negro. The Northern Central Road will make York the terminus of such cars. They consist of an ordinary passenger coach, divided into halves, one labeled white and the other colored.

Fiedler has severed his connection with the Journal, the new morning paper of DuBois, and will do special newspaper and political work for the Courier, until September, when he goes to Centre county, where he has been elected principal of the Central City grammar school. Tuesday morning the delegates will attend St John's church, where mass will be sung by the Rev. Father Boyle, and the sermon will be preached by Rev. Morgan M. Sheedy of Altoona. After mass the convention will be called to order in Y. M. C. A. hall, where a second session will be held in the afternoon. At 8 o'clock in the evening a grand rally will be held in Y. M. C. A. hall at which a number of addresses will be made. The third and last session will be held at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning and the afternoon will be spent in sight seeing.

Arrested on Suspicion.

A report reached Bellefonte Wednesday morning that an attempt was made to rob the Post Office at Milesburg and that the door had been broken in, but the robbers had been chased away. A telephone message from Milesburg was received at this office saying, that no robbery had been attempted at all. However several suspicious looking men were seen lurking around the town.

Shortly after eight o'clock Wednesday morning, a stranger fairly well dressed and rather fine looking was seen on our street and stopped at a house on Thomas street and asked for his breakfast which the kind lady of the house gave him. He started away from town going toward Milesburg. Detective Rightnour having heard the Milesburg report, followed the fellow and arrested him near the lime kilns. He was brought back to town, and before Squire Keichline he told this story.

"My name is William Brown of Syracuse, New York. I am 33 years old. I have lived in Pennsylvania four years and have been in jail several times for committing small crimes, not longer than twenty to thirty days at a time. Since being in this state I have been peddling needles pins and other notions. I rode from Mill Hall on Tuesday on a freight train and slept in Wallace's brick yard all night.

The fellow don't look like any great criminal, but you cannot always tell by a man's looks. He was committed to jail for a further hearing.

THE PENN CHEMICAL COMPANY.

The Makers of Vin-te-na Are Branching Out---A Growing Business.

In these days when industrial enterprises are lagging it is refreshing to know that Bellefonte has one that is showing a good healthy growth and increasing instead of decreasing their output. We refer to the Penn Chemical Company of Bellefonte, makers of Vin-te-na, the world's greatest tonic, and Vin-te-na pills. The editor dropped into the laboratory of the company on Bishop street Tuesday and was surprised to see the progress they are making. The company was organized about a year ago and in that time it has been extensively advertised throughout Pennsylvania and thousands of bottles have been sold. We found Frank Kerns busy at work putting up a large order to be shipped to the western part of the state. They have recently installed a big vat for mixing the medicine which will contain at one making enough for 3000 bottles of Vin-te-na. Every thing about the place is as clean and neat as a new pin and those who use the medicine can feel assured of its cleanliness and purity.

They also have secured new paste board packages for putting up each bottle of medicine in. They are blue in color with an attractive design on the front, said to have been the work of Robert F. Hunter.

The fact that the sales of Vin-te-na are on the increase is an indication that the company have a good article and one that is bound to have a great sale. The company is composed of energetic business men who are pushing Vin-te-na for all there is in it.

SNOW SHOE GREYS DEFEATED.

Howard Raises the Flag of Victory on Saturday.

Every young fellow in Snow Shoe plays base ball, and among them are some foxey players, and then of course some are lacking in knowing how to handle themselves when they run up against the real thing. The first team of Snow Shoe gave the Roosevelt boys of Bellefonte an awful trouncing a few weeks ago, and so the second team inspired with the idea that they could do the same, went down to Howard on Saturday and it was awful the way they got done up. The boys from the Mountain City are all a royal set of fellows and nothing would have pleased us better than to have had them do the Howard Hot Air aggregation, but fate was against them and with colors flying they went down to defeat. We feel sure they would have won the game if Howard had played their own team, and not stuffed themselves with several outside players.

Williams, the umpire was all to the good, and his decisions were all O. K.

"Chet" Moore at one time book-keeper for the Howard Creamery Co., at this place got into a scrap with the ball and he came off the field with an awful eye, he looked as though a cannon ball hit him.

"Dave" Schenck played an excellent game on 2nd base, and had no errors. Dave is next to a professional, and did some magnificent playing down at Hecla Park when he won the game for the B. A. C.

"Skinny" McKinley caught a splendid game and was always there when the ball reached him.

"Roddy" Shay a brother of Bill Shay the famous pitcher on the first team at Snow Shoe, showed his ability as a field player.

Warrick made a startling home run and received the applause of the great audience present.

"Ovrie" Kunes the professional pitcher from Eagleville, played a magnificent game and struck out ten men.

"Vousher" Davis, Snow Shoe's pitcher, struck out nine men and was in good trim, but his support was not what you might have called the best.

"Reilly" Burns played a fine game for the Mountain City boys on 1st base.

"Dungy" Gilliland was all to the good on 2nd base.

"Aikey" Kelley made some grand stand plays at short stop and gave good support all around.

Burns in centre field ran down a lot of plays, that seemed almost impossible for him to get, but he hung on to them like a leach.
